County Executive Announces Free Publications on Youth Safety

Mayville: --County Executive Gregory J. Edwards has recently been notified by Senator Charles Schumer that resources are being made available to any school, town, village or organization designed to assist in a greater awareness of school and youth safety issues.

Through its Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) Resource Information Center, the U.S. Department of Justice will provide free publications and other information on topics including: bullying in schools, school vandalism, spectator violence, disorderly youth in public places, and other issues facing our youth today.

"With school back in session the issue of school safety and protecting our children moves to the forefront and the most recent tragedy that occurred in Williamsville, NY is a grim reminder of the challenges that young people face everyday," said Edwards. "Senator Schumer has provided this information to my office to help all of us deal with issues that may prevent a tragedy from occurring in our local communities and I encourage organizations to take advantage of these free publications."

For more information on how to receive these free publications and/or CD's please visit www.cops.usdoj.gov or call the County Executive's Office at (716) 753-4211.
